

38TH ENVIRONMENTAL, HEALTH & SAFETY CONFERENCE

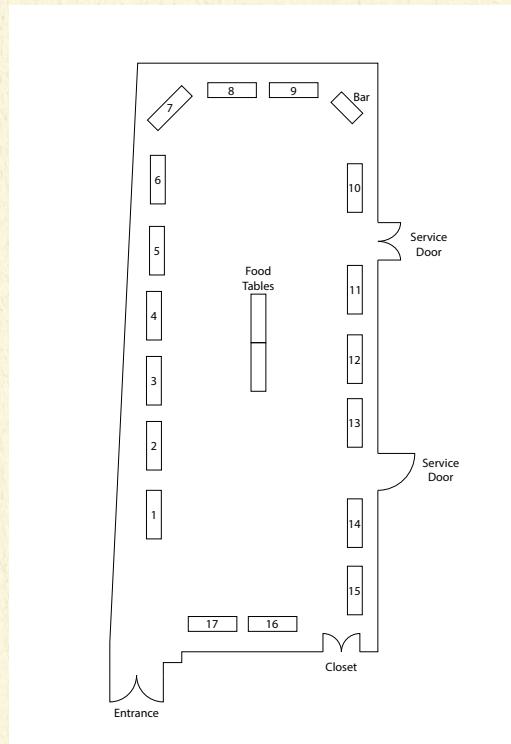

October 6 – 8, 2026 | Louisville, KY

In addition to ever-evolving compliance requirements, foundries strive to grow safer and greener every day. Thanks to new technologies and the expertise of EHS professionals you can ensure your facility is at the forefront of all things EHS at the AFS Environmental, Health and Safety Conference, the metalcasting industry's leading EHS event for over three decades.

At the 38th EHS Conference, you'll get the latest in information-sharing, with insights from EHS experts who lead the way in foundry safety and environmental advancements. This conference features speakers presenting novel approaches to EHS management, vendors highlighting cutting-edge products, and foundry members-only sessions where you can find answers to your most pressing EHS questions.

EXHIBITS

AFS is looking for exhibitors and sponsors to show off their latest EHS innovations, products, and services and to show support for AFS. Exhibitors will be given an eight foot black skirted table and two chairs. Wi-Fi is included and electricity will be made available, as needed. Seventeen exhibits are available and exhibits are on a first come, first served basis. Exhibits are located near the conference room in the same area where the lunch/breaks and evening reception will take place. Exhibits for AFS Corporate Members cost $1,725 ($2,050 for non-Members) and comes with one attendee registration with meals for the conference. Exhibitors are encouraged to bring door prizes to place on their exhibit table. Exhibitors can collect business cards from attendees that approach their table and there will be a drawing for each participating exhibitor towards the end of the reception on October 7th, 2026. Only attendees that visit participating exhibits throughout the day are eligible to win that exhibitor's door prizes. The exhibits will be on Wednesday, October 7, 2026.

SPONSORSHIPS

Sponsor logos will be included in pre-event print and digital marketing materials, on the event webpage, in various communications, and onsite on posters and attendee guides. Sponsors will be formally recognized during the event and during presentations. Sponsorships are $950.
